

Biographical Information

Andreas Thonhauser
Vice President and Chief Global Officer
EWTN Global Catholic Network

Andreas Thonhauser is Vice President and Chief Global Officer of EWTN. In this role, he helps lead the network's global operations and international strategy in Africa, Asia, and Europe, while overseeing EWTN's presence in Rome and supporting its news agencies reporting on the Holy See. Thonhauser also contributes to EWTN programs and publications, including News Nightly, Vaticano, and National Catholic Register. He previously served as EWTN's Vatican Bureau Chief beginning in 2021.

He earned a Master of Business Administration from the WU Executive Academy in Vienna and a Master's Degree in German Philology, Anglistics, and Americanistics from the University of Vienna. Prior to joining EWTN, Thonhauser served as Director of External Affairs for a global human rights organization and worked for various media outlets in Vienna, Austria. He lives with his wife and seven children in Rome, Italy.

March 18, 2026